Junior High Band Rates Well at Rotan

That band students at Hamlin Junior High School are getting fine instruction and training under Band Director Tim Jones was creditably attested Saturday when members of the Junior High Band came away from a regional band rating festival at Rotan with a array of first and second division ratings.

More than 400 musicians from nine area junior high schools participated in the intermediate band festival under the general direction of Charles Millender, band director at Rotan.

The all-day event was conducted in the band hall and high school auditorium at the neighbor school to the west.

Organization of Jaycees at Hamlin Be Talked Monday

Possibility of organizing a Junior Chamber of Commerce in Hamlin will be aired at an open meeting which has been scheduled by the Stamford Jaycees for 7:30 p. m., Monday, February 22, at the Board of Community Development office.

According to Keith Wheatley of Stamford, state director of the Jaycees, the meeting was set at the request of many city young men who have expressed an interest in forming a Junior Chamber unit here.

Wheatley, extension chairman of the Stamford chapter, has reported that many young men already contacted will be present for the meeting. One of them, Max Murrell, will provide free transportation and may be contacted by telephone.

At a briefing meeting Stamford Jaycees will explain various aspects of their own organization, community and membership benefits resulting from Junior CC operations, and Junior Chamber chapter and membership requirements. A question and answer period will close the session, which is expected to last an hour and a half.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is a civic service organization whose membership is open to all young men between the ages of 21 through 25.

Purpose of the world-wide organization is the improvement of the communities in which units are located and personal development of its members; both objectives being accomplished through a wide variety of project activities.

Junior Chamber chapters are located in 3,600 communities in the United States and have a total membership of 200,000. Internationally, Jaycee chapters exist in over 88 countries and territories.

Band concerts and sight reading concerts were conducted Saturday morning; solos and ensembles Saturday afternoon. The events were judged by Russell Griep, director of the Lincoln Junior High School Band in Abilene, and Merlin Jenkins, assistant band director at Abilene High School.

Trophies were given to first division winners in band concert and sight reading, and in the sweepstakes. Medals were given first division winners in solos and ensembles.

The Idalou Band, directed by Emory Grayson, won first division in concert and third in sight reading. Hamlin's band, directed by Tim Jones, won first division in sight reading and second in concert. Post band, directed by Bob Meisch, won first division in concert and third in sight reading.

Hamlin had the largest group of first division individual and group winners at the festival. They included Gary Ted Jay, Jackie Townley, Elizabeth Cunningham, Mary Margaret Turner, Carolyn Reynolds, Freddie Shave, Mary Patterson Jimmy Inzer, Jay Trio and Johnson Trio.

Membership Leader Sets Pattern for BCD Drive With Increases

Membership Chairman Fred B. Moore Jr. of the Hamlin Board of Community Development is not asking the 56 men making up the Greens and White membership teams to do something he is not afraid to tackle.

The grain and feed man, in fact, set an enviable pace first of the week by setting a pattern for his two campaign groups. He took all the present membership lists of the BCD and reported after only three hours of work that he had signed up more than $3,000 in pledges on a proposed $15,000 budget for 1960.

Most of those contacted by Moore first of the week increased their current pledges in order to support an expanded program for the BCD during the ensuing year.

Green and White Teams Hope to Sign 500 Members

"Invest in Hamlin" is the war cry this week of two opposing teams of spirited citizens of the community engaged in a common fight for the future of the Pied Piper City.

The two crews, labeled the Greens and Whites, squared off Tuesday morning at a kick-off breakfast at the oil mill guest house in the most comprehensive membership drive for the Hamlin Board of Community Development ever conducted.

Fred B. Moore Jr., immediate past president of the BCD, is the commanding general of the all-out effort to raise the 1960 BCD budget of $15,000 and enroll 500 members in the civic organization. Moore Tuesday morning declared that "Everybody has a vital stake in his home community, and we must invest in that community in order to protect its future. Your BCD provides the best place for defense. Even the working person, who may own a home in the area, is dependent on the community's progress for the resale value of that home. Membership in the BCD, in other words, helps protect that investment by making your community better."

Minimum individual memberships were set at $1 per month, and business memberships $2.50 per month. Bank drafts were urged upon drive teams as the most convenient mode of membership payment. The drive is set to be completed by March 1.

Heading the Green team as captains are B. M. Brundage and Wesley Nail. On their crew are C. E. Gregory, LaFoy Patterson, John Howard Jr., Cecil Richardson, Melvin Scott, George Campbell, J. D. Josey, L. E. Prewitt, Mrs. E. M. Wilson, Carl Murrell, Willard Jones, James E. Harrison, L. H. McBride, J. E. Patterson, Johnnie Agnew, Edmund W. Robb, John C. Bryant, O. D. Roland, Holly Toler, Robert Fowler, Clyde Carroll, Bob Riddell, Joe Hudds, Max Murrell, Curtis Dodd and Ed Croan.

On the White team, captained by Bill Harbert and Louie Cunningham, are R. L. McClung, Eddie Jay, W. W. Fletcher, Bill Foster, C. F. Cook, Weldon Johnson, Cliff Reynolds Jr., B. V. Newberry, C. L. Howard, Weldon Carlton, Lester Minton, Arlie Cassie, Mrs. R. D. Moore, Marvin Carlton, Buddy Wade, Fred Smith, L. C. Bonds, Alton Mayfield, Phil Smith, W. T. Johnson, Mrs. Frankie Sue Wilson, Jim H. Models of Guided Missiles to Be Seen By Rotary Group

Electronic brains, guided missiles and man-made satellites will be demonstrated in a talk before Hamlin Rotary Club next Wednesday noon, club officials this week announced.

Glenn Scott, public information supervisor for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, will speak on electronic systems which will provide a new type telephone service and are the nerves of today's guided missiles.

Members of the audience will see a model of the present Nike Hercules, the guided supersonic anti-aircraft missile, and hear the story of Nike Zeus, an anti-missile missile now under development in the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

A model of the Titan, largest of this country's intercontinental ballistic missiles, will be shown and its communications system for homing in on an enemy target explained.

The program is entitled "Telephone Science in National Defense," and is brought to the local Rotary Club by Glenn Scott, public information supervisor of the phone company. The speaker has appeared before almost 2,000 Texas audiences in the past several years.

GLENN SCOTT (above) will speak next Wednesday noon at the Rotary Club luncheon.

Building Fund of First Methodists Climbing

Recent gifts to the building fund of the First Methodist Church have brought the total to date up to $16,825.66, reports the pastor of the church, Rev. Edmund W. Robb.

Interest among members of the congregation is growing in building a new church, declares Robb. He says new space is needed for Sunday School classes.

The church purchased proposed property for a new auditorium and educational facilities in Southwest Hamlin, north of the high school football stadium, several years ago.

Resignation of A. Spencer Leaves One Councilman

Across-the-board salary raises for Hamlin city employees, except members of the police force, were approved by the monthly business session of the City Council Tuesday night at the city hall. The raises will become effective immediately, said members of the council.

Raises had been voted for members of the four-man police force several months ago, councilmen pointed out.

A. Spencer, serving his fifth term on the City Council, submitted his resignation, effective with completion of the current official year in April. He had another year to serve on his present two-year tenure.

Spencer's resignation brings to four councilmen to be elected at the forthcoming election in April, along with a mayor. Terms of Joe Hudds, James Josey and Max Murrell, all serving their first terms, are expiring, along with term of Mayor L. H. McBride. John Howard Jr. now is the lone hold-over on the council, his tenure running another year.

Conference with Engineers Slated Soon by Council

Hamlin City Council in regular Tuesday night session paved the way for the possible development of a master plan for Hamlin, according to Mayor L. H. McBride.

In a letter addressed to the members of the City Council, the Board of Community Development said, "The BCD has completed a study of Hamlin's resources, trade potentials and growth possibilities, as well as many problems pertaining to the community's welfare. After carefully analyzing the results of this study, we, the officers and directors, find several existing factors which show our efforts to attract new commerce and industry, and make recommendations to you for consideration."

"The broad objectives of a master plan is to further the welfare of the people in Hamlin by helping create an increasingly better, more healthful, convenient, efficient and attractive community environment. This objective is achieved by systematically anticipating and adjusting the physical environment of a city consistent with social and economic trends and sound principles of civic design supported by the development and enforcement of those controls necessary to attain the goal."

"The master plan will cover three major phases—land use plan, streets and thoroughfare plan, and public improvements plan. It will take about two years to complete and will be the blueprint of all future development."

In the report, the BCD found many advantages Hamlin has over other communities of comparable size. It showed a well diversified economy with an annual income from oil, gas, livestock, agriculture and industries of over $31,000,000. The letter stated, "If Hamlin is to continue benefitting from these resources, it must take necessary action now and include them in planning future growth."

The council agreed to consult with a representative of the Fort Worth firm of Freese, Nichols & Andrews on development of such a master plan.

March of Dimes to Be Climaxed Next Week

Hamlin community's March of Dimes will be wound up next week, according to word this week from Marvin D. Carlton, drive chairman.

Several projects, including traffic blockade by the Boy Scouts, balloon sale by Camp Fire Girls, dime cards in the grade schools and mother's march have netted several hundred dollars, Carlton declared.

The change collectors left in business houses of the town will be picked up over the week-end and a final report made in next week's Herald, the chairman says.

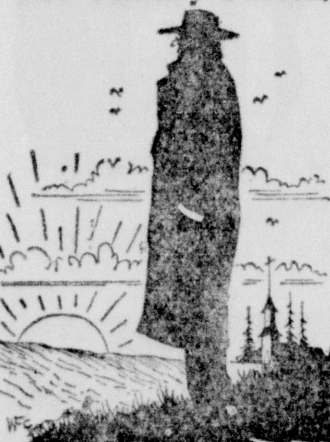

Three new citizens have been recorded at the Hamlin Memorial Hospital since last week's report in The Herald. Two girls and a boy, they are:

A girl for Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wright arrived February 10. The weight of the girl was tabbed at seven pounds seven ounces, and she has been tagged Julie Ann.

A girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Saldana on February 8. The little senorita was named Josephine Elva after having her birth weight checked at seven pounds eight ounces.

A boy arrived for Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Mays of Aspermont on February 13. Weighing six pounds 13 ounces, he accepted Franklin

BUILDING SOIL FERTILITY WILL HELP FARMING

"Another Multi-Million Dollar Industry Comes to the Southwest." This and similar bold, black headlines appearing in our newspapers tell the story of the recent industrial growth in the region. However, this welcomed industrial expansion—which has meant increased income for many Southwestern communities—has also forced us to take a second look at our oldest industry, farming.

Texas (and even the Hamlin territory) have the same general advantages and problems as other Southwestern states when it comes to agriculture. We have a mild climate, adequate average rainfall generally, a long growing season, and soils which will profitable yields of a wide variety of farm crops.

Our common problem has been low soil fertility and resulting low average crop yields. The state agricultural experiment stations and thousands of farm demonstrations in all sections of the state have proved beyond doubt that this problem of low soil fertility can be licked. In fact, soil fertility must be built up before farmers can make the most profitable use of good seed, improved varieties, modern equipment, and the best cultural practices.

What would be the result, we asked ourselves, if more farmers in the state raised the fertility level of their soils and applied more available "know how" to their farming operations? We soon found the answer: If only a majority of our farmers followed the recommendations of the experiment stations as to fertilization, crop varieties, cultural practices, and insect and disease control practices, our annual farm income could be more than doubled.

In short, this additional farm income amounting to $1,900,000,000 would be equal to the combined payrolls of many new industries and would raise the state's farm income to more than $3,800,000,000.

The challenge, then, is to try to convince more farmers in the state that there is "hidden payroll" under the soil. An intensive soil fertility program would greatly increase farm income, no doubt, in the Hamlin sector as well as in other areas.

Paul Bryan, Veteran Hamlin Lumber Man, Featured in Magazine Article

Paul Bryan, veteran lumberman of Hamlin, who last year sold his lumber yard in Hamlin, was the subject in January for the monthly feature, "Profile of a Lumberman," of The Gulf Coast Lumberman, magazine published at Houston. Showing a picture of the long time citizen, the magazine had this to say:

Sometimes a fellow just plain gets tired of it all and quits. Paul Bryan of Hamlin, Texas, did that, but he waited some 51 years before he obeyed that impulse which comes to us all one time or another. Last year he sold his retail yard in Hamlin to his nephew, Wilson Brannon, and retired.

He comes from a family that has been connected with the lumber business from way back—back to shortly before the war between the states, as a matter of fact.

"My grandfather bought 4,444 acres of East Texas timberland in 1854 and came to Texas from Alabama with his own wagon train, consisting of 15 covered wagons, one buggy and one closed carriage. He brought 50 slaves, a hired overseer and a large herd of cattle," Bryan recalls. "My father and his father before him had a sawmill."

He was born in Shelby County in 1888, and got his start in the lumber business the hard way, getting slivers in his hands as he worked about his father's sawmill, as a young man. He went to work for R. B. Spencer & Company in 1910 and stayed with that firm until 1942. He was a partner with R. B. Spencer & Company for 30 years before branching out on his own.

Over the years Paul Bryan has been active in civic and industry affairs. He was twice president of the West Texas Lumbermen's Association; was on the board of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas for two terms; out of the past 45 meetings he has missed not more than four; he has served on the school board and City Council of his town. He is a 32nd degree Mason and a Shriner.

He is well known for his recollection of early days in the West. In the Pecos Valley he saw the building of the first road to Fort Stockton. He recalls a time when the nearest neighbor lived 20 miles away, when he had to haul water seven miles from a seep spring, and when it took three days to get the mail—one day going, one day in the wagon yard, and one day back. And he lived to see the day of the jets.

The irritated gentleman was trying to enjoy the movie, but finally gave up in disgust. He turned to the two women seated beside him. "Excuse me, ladies," he complained, "but I can't hear a word."

"Suits you right, mister," snapped one of the women. "What we're talking about is none of your business."

Riding Bicycles to School

Sooner or later, almost all parents are faced with the question: At what age should I let my child start riding a bicycle to school?

The answer, of course, will depend on the individual child. Those who are exceptionally intelligent and well coordinated will be able to start using a bicycle for school transportation at an earlier period than those who fall in the "average" group. The trick, here, is for the parent to be objective enough to recognize their own youngster's capabilities.

One of the most vital factors contributing to a young cyclist's safety is the early training received at home. Parents who have stressed safety in the family's day-to-day living can reasonably expect their child to have an all important good attitude toward safety rules in general.

As with cars, bicycles have particular safety rules of their own. The best one is a healthy helping of common sense, according to the Texas Safety Association, seasoned with good sound advice from the parents.

From Another Angle

Why is it that an artist will step back from his easel to take a fresh look at his painting, a man climb a tree to get his bearings when lost in the woods? Because he needs to get a perspective, a truer picture of what he is doing, of where he is going.—Kathleen W. Welch.

Gossip Is Like That

A peasant with a troubled conscience went to a monk for advice, saying he had circulated a vile story about another, only to find it was not true.

"If you wish to make peace with your conscience," said the monk, "you must fill a bag with chicken down, go through every doorway in the village and drop into each one of them a fluffy feather."

The peasant did as he was told. Then he came back to the monk and said he had atoned for his folly.

"Not yet," replied the monk. "You must now return and gather up every feather you have dropped."

"But the wind must have blown them all away," protested the peasant.

"Yes, my son," said the monk, "and so it is with evil words. They are easily dropped, but no matter how hard you try, you can never get them back."

LABOR UNIONS NOT FOR FARMERS

Labor unions serve a useful purpose. We are strongly in favor of them, even though we deplore and condemn some of their policies and practices. But labor unions were not meant for farmers. They were set up to serve labor. And unless the farmer expects to be more of a laborer than anything else, there are better routes to fair farm prices than through labor unions.

Every small farm owner who does his own work is both a laborer and a capitalist. At the start, he may be more laborer than capitalist; that is, he gets more out of his labor than out of his investment in land and equipment. But if a farmer at heart, no matter how small at the start, he dreams of the day when he will own more land and equipment and thus become more capitalist and less laborer.

Being both capitalists and laborers, farmers need help that labor unions are not prepared to give. The best way to get this help is for farmers to work together to solve their problems through group action.—The Progressive Farmer.

Delegates to Oil Belt Convention for Teachers Named at Anson Meeting

Eight delegates were named to the Oil Belt District convention of the Texas State Teachers Association when the Jones County teachers, local unit of the TSTA met in regular session today evening in Anson High school auditorium.

President of the Jones County teachers, Wayne Forrest of Hawley, presided over a short business session in which the delegates were elected to the March 11 session in Sweetwater. The delegates are: Wayne Forrest of Hawley, Ethel Rowell of Stamford, Marvin D. Carlton of Hamlin, C. F. Cook of Hamlin, James E. Connell of Avoca, Fred Shelton of Lueders, Cullen Cranfill of Noodle and Rosalie Fry of Anson.

Gus Young of Hamlin, program chairman, introduced Helen Poe of Dallas as speaker of the evening. Miss Poe, an internationally known speaker, traveler and author, gave the group a vivid report on her recent trip to Russia. She urged her hearers to realize what it means to be a citizen of America, the richest nation on earth, and she reminded that as long as we deal with the Russians there will be suspense.

"In Russia one of the proudest positions is teaching," said Miss Poe. "While Russia teaches the skilled and intellectual students, we in America attempt to educate the masses. Our schools in America are special, and we must work to keep them. We must be proud of our educational system and respect our teachers because they mold the citizens of tomorrow.

"We Americans must not fail to preserve democracy, and we must work to achieve a just and lasting peace among all nations," the speaker asserted.

Refreshments were served to the teachers by the Anson homemaker department under the supervision of Mrs. Edna Beck.

Another Pioneer, A. G. Gonzales, Dies At Home Sunday

Another pioneer of the Hamlin section, A. G. Gonzales, 82-year-old farmer living nine miles west of Hamlin, succumbed Sunday morning about 8:00 o'clock at the family home following an acute attack of asthma. He had been in failing health for several months.

Born in Old Mexico on May 10, 1877, Gonzales had come to this country as a young man as a farm hand. He moved to West Texas more than 50 years ago and had owned a farm in Fisher County west of Hamlin since about 1910.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Rotan of which he was a member. The pastor officiated at the final rites.

Burial was in the Rotan Cemetery under the direction of Weathersbee Funeral Home.

Surviving the long time resident are his wife; six sons, Feliverto Gonzales of Colorado City, Ben Gonzales of Hamlin, Frank Gonzales of Roby, Victor Gonzales of Hamlin, Eugene Gonzales of Odessa; three daughters, Mrs. Cecelia Romero of Rotan, Mrs. Clara Govina of Spur and Delores Gonzales of the home; one brother, one sister, 32 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

ON THE STAND.

"Do you understand what you are to swear to?" asked the judge of the not-too-intelligent witness. "Yes, sir, I do. I'm supposed to swear to the truth."

"And what will happen if you do not tell the truth?"

"Well, judge, I imagine our side will win the case."

COMPARING NOTES.

"My business," groaned Smith, "is terrible. How's yours?"

"Looking up."

"What do you mean, looking up?"

"Well, it's flat on its back now."

Pied Pipers to Meet Childress There Tuesday in Bi-District

Winner of Game Will Go to Region Play at Lubbock

Hamlin High School's Pied Piper basketball team will meet the Childress High School Bobcats in a bi-district dog-eat-dog game next Tuesday night at 7:00 o'clock on the Childress court.

Hamlin had last week-end won the District 6-AA championship by tripping the Haskell Indians in their final conference game, as Anson's Tigers were defeating the Stamford Bulldogs, who had in the final week threatened to tie things up and force a play-off for the district crown. Childress won the District 5-AA title Tuesday night by trouncing the Quanah Chiefs 62 to 41 at Quanah.

The bi-district tilt was scheduled by school officials of the two schools Tuesday night at Childress following the deciding game there. Childress won the coin toss to give them the choice of play-off site.

Biggest delegation of fans to follow the HHS basketballers to a game this year is expected to go to Childress if the weather is favorable.

Coach Neil Laminack of the Pied Pipers says the Tuesday encounter will be a tough one, especially in view of the Bobcats playing on their home court.

The two teams are rated about the same in strength. Only common opponent of the two squads this year has been the Seymour team. Hamlin defeated Seymour by about 20 points in the two games they played them. Childress likewise trimmed Seymour by about the same margin.

Winner of the Tuesday night tilt will go to Lubbock next Saturday for a four-team regional play-off.

DISTRICT 6-AA STANDINGS

Although players and fans of Hamlin High School area had a big scare last week after the Pied Pipers lost a critical game to the Stamford Bulldogs, things wound up the season in a satisfactory way—thanks to the Anson Tigers. Final standings in the District 6-AA conference looked like this:

Teams—	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Hamlin	8	7	1	.875
Stamford	8	6	2	.750
Anson	8	4	4	.500
Haskell	8	3	5	.375
Seymour	8	0	8	.000

Last Week's Results:
Stamford 56, Hamlin 40.
Hamlin 54, Haskell 36.
Anson 55, Stamford 73.

District 17-B Teams in Basketball Tourney At Hamlin Week-End

Hamlin High School's beautiful new gymnasium will be the site this week-end for a championship tournament for the six member basketball teams of District 17-B. It was announced first of the week by Hamlin school officials.

Play is due to get underway this (Thursday) afternoon and be concluded Saturday afternoon. A schedule of game times was not available to The Herald at press time.

Teams will participate in the tournament from Hawley, Noodle, Avoca, Aspermont, Lueders and Old Glory.

The six district teams finished in the above order in the recently completed double round robin play of conference members.

Besides good delegations of fans from the area schools, the tournament is expected to attract numbers of Hamlin community fans.

Pied Pipers Sew Up District Title with Win Over Haskell

While the Anson High School Tigers were giving them an assist in defeating the Stamford Bulldogs Friday night, the Hamlin Pied Pipers drubbed the Haskell Indians 54 to 36 to win the District 6-AA basketball championship Friday night.

The double-barreled victory delivered the Pied Pipers their first district basketball championship in 24 years.

After being played hard by the Indians at the start of the game, Coach Neil Laminack's boys finally got started and took the game easily. The first quarter ended in a 14 to 14 count; the half-time score was 28 to 23 in favor of Hamlin; the third period score was 38 to 29.

Robert Brandon was high pointer for Hamlin with 16 points; David Wade made 13, and Cecil Robinson 10.

Gary Anthony was top scorer for the Indians with 15.

One of the biggest crowds of the season witnessed the game Friday night, played in the HHS gymnasium. Haskell, which finished fourth in the district, was well represented in the stands.

Junior High Teams Play Two More Sets

Junior High School basketball teams journey to Anson tonight (Thursday) for games with the Anson squads.

The season's final tilts will be played next Monday when Hamlin plays host to the Haskell delegations. Three games will be played each night.

The Herald has carbon paper.

Anson Tigers Loved By Pied Piper Crew For Beating Bulldogs

Renewed admiration for their oftentimes regarded arch enemies on the athletic fields, the Anson High School Tigers, was being expressed this week by Hamlin basketball players and fans. It all was because the Tigers defeated Stamford's Bulldogs Friday night to help the Pied Pipers win the District 6-AA cage crown.

Dudley White's crisp shot with 30 seconds left in a single overtime was the deciding factor in the 55 to 53 victory for Anson. The regular game had ended in a 53 to 53 score.

Anson substitute Gilbert Mayfield sank a short bucket shot in the final seconds of the regular period to tie the game. Stamford's Duane Lindsey missed a shot and a free throw that would have given the Bulldogs victory.

Gary McCaleb led Anson's scoring with 22 points, while Tom Lovorn was high pointer for the Bulldogs with 16.

Piperettes Lose Final District Tilt Tuesday To Anson 18 to 16

Entering the game with a chance to tie for the District 6-AA girls' basketball championship, the Hamlin High School Piperettes lost a heart-breaking decision to the Anson girls Tuesday night by an 18 to 16 count. The game gave the title to the Anson girls.

Joyce Mitchell sank a set shot in the last half minute of play to give Anson the edge. Linda Bennett scored nine point for the county seaters, and Zean Winegeart made 40 marks for Hamlin.

The victory gave Anson a four won, none lost record for conference play. Hamlin wound up the loop play with a two won, two lost record. Haskell had no wins in four starts.

Anson girls will meet Wellington, the District 5-AA champion, at Vernon in the bi-district play-off March 1.

Seeing is believing—if you see it in print.

Albany Junior Cagers In Conference Lead

Albany Junior High School's eighth grade boys are clinging to a perfect conference record to hold undisputed lead of the loop of five area junior high school squads. They have won all five of their games.

Hamlin's eighth graders, with a one won and five lost record, are in a tie for the cellar spot of the conference.

The standings, after last week-end's games, looks like this:

Teams—	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Albany	5	5	0	1.000
Anson	4	3	1	.750
Haskell	5	3	2	.600
Merkel	6	1	5	.166
Hamlin	6	1	5	.166

THERE HAD TO BE!

"But, Matilda," pleaded the unhappy swain, "why won't you marry me? There isn't somebody else, is there?"

The lass looked at his homely visage, at the ears that flapped incongruously, and at the expression on his face. "Oh, Clarence," she wailed, "there must be!"

The seventh grade boys had trouble getting their shots to drop and lost a 16 to 27 decision to the Merkel seventh graders. George Smith tallied six points, Mike Shivers four, Holman Jones two, Lanny Foster two, and Larry Don Perry two points.

High School Teams Go to Haskell for Two Tilts with Knox City

Booked as a game to keep the Hamlin High School A teams of boys and girls in trim for post-season play-offs, the Pied Pipers and Piperettes will go to Haskell tomorrow (Friday) night for two games on the basketball court with Knox City crews.

The games will get underway about 7:00 o'clock, according to Piper Coach Neil Laminack, the girls' fricas being booked first. Knox City boys won their District 13-B championship in the season just completed with a perfect record after eight conference tilts. Friday night's game will be a hard fought battle, with the winner probably a toss-up, Coach Laminack said.

A big delegation of fans is expected to witness the Knox City games.

HAMLIN

Set Your Hand to the Plow!

HAMLIN IS YOUR FERTILE FIELD—There's just one way to make this land produce, and that is to set your hand to the plow!

THE PLOW ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH—You'll need a team to pull the plow. Your Board of Community Development is the plow, but it takes team work . . . everyone pulling in the right direction, to get the job done. Team work in this sense is the members doing their bit, but it's a large field and more members are needed to make a deep furrow.

MAKE YOUR FURROW of lasting impression for generations to come. Set a true course, and leave something worthy of being remembered.

PLANT YOUR SEED AND CARE FOR IT—In the words of Daniel Webster, "Let us develop the resources of our land, call forth its powers, build up its institutions, promote all its great interests, and see whether we also, in our day and generation, may not perform something worthy to be remembered." Plant good seed!

A GOOD HARVEST IS YOUR REWARD — You and your community deserve the best, and it's up to you to see that you don't settle for less! The easiest way out is not always the best. It takes time, effort, interest and money to get those things for your community you rightfully deserve. It takes you, your ideas and your interest to pull the plow, guide it in cultivating the land, to plant good seed, and to reap a good harvest for you, your family and for your community.

THE BOARD OF COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT is the logical tool by which this great field of ours can be developed into something "worthy to be remembered."

National Electric Week Talk Heard By Lions Tuesday

Electricity was all over the place Tuesday at the noon meeting of Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house—but nobody was electrified. C. V. Herbert, maintenance superintendent at the Celotex Corporation plant southwest of Hamlin, presented a talk on the origin of electric lights and power in observance of National Electric Week.

Herbert traced the discovery and development of electricity in this country from Benjamin Franklin, Vol. Ohms Law and Ampere, through Thomas A. Edison and Steinmetz, to the present time. He said the first commercial power plant was a small direct current generating plant at Menlo Park, New York. Today's immense power plants that help to turn the wheels of industry in the United States, Herbert said, are a far cry from that first midge plant.

Members of the District 6-AA champion basketball team of Hamlin High School were guests of the Lions, along with their coach, Neil Laminack. The boys were David Wade, Cecil Robinson, Robert Brandon, Jerald McCamies, Stanley Austin, David Bonds, Mike Bond and Gary Williams, players; and Larry Wade, team manager.

Jerry Williams, new employee at Midwest Cooperative Oil Mill, was presented as a new member of the Lions Club.

Besides the basketball group and their coach, other guests at the Tuesday luncheon included A. A. Adams of Lorenzo, J. C. Hayden of Anson, Alvis Bond and Joe Ford.

TIMELY SUGGESTION.

"You look sweet enough to eat," he gushed.

"Good," she said, "let's. I'm starved."

Mrs. J. C. Green, Pioneer Resident, Succumbs Sunday

A resident of Hamlin for nearly 50 years, Mrs. J. C. (Adella) Green, 79-year-old wife of an early day farmer, died Sunday afternoon at the Hamlin Memorial Hospital after a lingering illness. She had been in the hospital for about three weeks.

Born in Van Zandt County on February 24, 1880, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wade. She married J. C. Green in Van Zandt County in 1900. The couple moved to Jones County in 1914 and had resided here ever since. Mr. Green died September 6, 1958.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the First Methodist Church. The pastor, Rev. Edmund W. Robb, officiated, assisted by Rev. Fred Brown, pastor of the Faith Methodist Church.

Burial was in the Hamlin East Cemetery under the direction of Hamlin Funeral Home. Pallbearers were B. C. Payne, Claude Bessire, Benson Payne, Teonard Goodgame, Clarence Hyer and O. L. Cohorn.

Surviving the pioneer are four sons, Ira Green and Wade Green of Hamlin, Bonnie Green of Lubbock and John C. Green of California; one daughter, Mrs. Jones Palmer of Levelland; one brother, E. W. Wade of Rusk; two sisters, Mrs. Bill Teel of Willis Point and Mrs. Beulah Hinton of Rusk; 18 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

BONNER'S IN ANSON

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

Austin.—Democratic county executive committees will decide on March 14 whether to change the old custom of holding rural area precinct conventions in the daytime.

New election law passed last year has already doomed a number of Texas political traditions—like announcing when the dogwood comes out and serving watermelon at election rallies.

Primaries are now held the first week of May and June, instead of the last weeks of July and August, as before.

Another change is that a person who wishes to participate in a Democratic precinct convention must already have voted in the Democratic primary held the same day in order to have a poll tax stamped "Democratic."

City precincts won't be affected. There, customarily, the precinct convention have been held after the polls close at 7:00 p. m.

In rural areas conventions usually have been held in the afternoon. This enabled people to come in, attend the convention, vote, buy their groceries, all in one trip, and get home in time to do the milking.

Now there is the necessity of giving everyone time to vote before the convention can be held.

State Democratic Chairman J. E. Connally has suggested county committees give thought to holding rural precinct conventions later—possibly not until after the polls close at 7:00 p. m.

Legislative Races.—With 120 of the 150 House members making a bid for reelection, each of the two leading candidates for speaker claim that half or more of these probable returnees is pledged to him.

Most active in the speaker's race are Representatives Wade Spillman of McAllen and James Turman of Goben. Some are predicting the race may be as long and hard as the last one between Waggoner Carr and Joe Burckett.

Thirty House members are either retiring from public life (including Burckett) or seeking another office (including Carr). Of the 120 who are running again for the House, 82 have opponents. This means there will definitely be no decision on the speaker's race until after the primaries.

Neither Turman nor Spillman has an opponent for his House seat.

Of the 16 senators up for reelection, all are running again and 10 have opponents.

Unless there should be an unusual number of "upsets," legislative turn-over should be about the same or less than usual. "Normal" replacement is about one-third of the House (or 50 members) and a very small number of senators, usually not more than two or three.

Trojan Horse.—Consideration of a federal aid to education bill in Washington has Texas reacting with mixed emotions.

It also adds new urgency to the efforts of those who want to see Texas shoulder school improvement responsibility through passage of the Hale-Aikin program.

Governor Price Daniel said Texans should accept U. S. Senate passage of the federal aid bill as "fair warning" that Congress will step in if states do not take the necessary action.

If the states let in federal money, they will let in federal control of schools, the governor declared. He called "impossible" the idea of "federal money without strings attached."

Under the aid bill pending in Congress, Texas would receive $62,000,000, largest share of any state, from a $1,833,000,000 appropriation. Thus far, very few Texas school districts have refused to take the federal aid now available — for science teaching equipment, school lunches, etc.

Stick With Guns.—State Board of Insurance has announced five minor changes in the safe driving insurance plan, but in broad effect, the plan remains the same. Board stuck to its guns despite a barrage of criticism.

Main change is that an insurance company cannot deny liability on a policy of false or inaccurate information is given by the policy holder. For instance, a person taking out a policy might, intentionally or unintentionally, fail to tell the insurance company how many accidents or traffic violations were on his driving record.

However, the company would be entitled to collect the higher premiums or damages from fraud if the policy holder had not admitted to his true driving record.

Premiums go up in proportion to the number of accidents and violations on a driver's record.

New Party Leader.—Albert B. Fay, Houston oil man, ship builder and rancher, succeeds Jack Porter of Houston as Texas Republican national committeeman.

Porter came to power in the party in 1952 as an Eisenhower supporter when the "Old Guard"

W.P. Westmoreland Dies Saturday in Hamlin Hospital

W. P. Westmoreland, 79-year-old retired farmer, who came to this section in 1926, died Saturday night at the Hamlin Memorial Hospital after an illness of about a week. He had been in the hospital two days.

Born at Hope, Arkansas, on September 2, 1880, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Westmoreland Sr. He married the former Fairbelle Moore at Gorman on August 22, 1900. The couple came to this area in 1926, and had resided south of Hamlin on a farm since that time. He was a member of the Neinda Baptist Church and the Woodmen of the World Lodge.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at the Neinda Baptist Church. Officiating were Rev. Frank Coddington, pastor at Neinda, and Rev. Lenard A. Hartley, pastor of the Hamlin First Baptist Church.

Interment was in the Neinda Cemetery under the direction of Hamlin Funeral Home. Grandsons acted as pallbearers.

Surviving the pioneer are his widow, Mrs. W. P. Westmoreland; two sons, J. P. Westmoreland of Hamlin and A. V. Westmoreland of Anson; two daughters, Mrs. J. B. Bagwell of O'Donnell and Mrs. Roy Brown of Hamlin; two brothers, W. G. Westmoreland and J. M. Westmoreland, both of Gorman; three sisters, Mrs. Rosa Clack of California, Mrs. Ella Gowan of Gorman and Mrs. Freeman Andrus of Anson; eight grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Safeway Store Issues Gold Bond Stamps

Safeway store in Hamlin began giving Gold Bond stamps with purchases here Monday, according to C. M. Dodd, local manager.

The Gold Bond Company is the second largest independent trade stamp company in the nation, with headquarters in Minneapolis and a division office in Dallas, with Elliott Srebnick in charge.

Manager Dodd said that the placing of stamps in the store here is an expansion of the program which has placed Gold Bond stamps in 10 of the 25 Safeway divisions.

Gold Bond premium centers will be established in the territory soon, with premium catalogs to be distributed to residents of this area within the next 10 days.

Checks for Income Tax Payments Should Be Made Correctly

"We don't care much what you call us as long as you get the name of our agency correct in checks and money orders," Arthur E. Fogle of the Abilene Internal Revenue Service office says with a smile.

In conversation the hard working men and women at the IRS are used to hearing other taxpayers refer to their organization as "Internal Revenue," "Eternal Revenue" and some terms that would not go through the mails.

"However," Fogle says, "we'll appreciate it if checks and money orders in payment of federal income tax are made payable to Internal Revenue Service."

This is the seventh year that Uncle Sam's collection agency has used that official name, he added.

Feeding of Hormones To Cattle Should Be Watched for Market

Feeding of hormones to feed lot cattle has been recommended for several years. They have been used but hardly in the feed and as ear implants. Additional gain with less feed has made feeders consider its use profitable.

There are instructions for use on the containers in which these products are purchased, says Kirby Clayton, Jones County agent. These instructions specifically declare the length of time that cattle no oral feeding must be removed from feed containing the hormone prior to slaughter. Some products require that animals be removed from such feeds at least 48 hours before slaughter. Clayton cautions that implanted cattle are not to be slaughtered for a certain number of days after the implants are administered. Certain products require 120 days prior to slaughter.

Anyone using or considering the use of hormones by either of the above methods should acquaint themselves with the proper use of the product, the agent emphasizes. This applies to hormone use with any cattle intended for slaughter.

Producers included several in the Hamlin territory. Electricity sparks the... 60s NATIONAL ELECTRICAL WEEK FEB. 7-13, 1960

"WHADDYA MEAN ELECTRICITY WILL BE A BARGAIN IN THE '60s?"

"Look at this bill. It's higher than it was last year, isn't it?"

Yes sir—it is. But let's see why. Do you have a new appliance, perhaps? A present for your wife?

"Well, yes. I got her a dishwasher and a new automatic washer last summer."

Lucky wife. Is there anything else?

"Well, yes. We've got a new TV set, too—and I guess we've been watching it a good deal."

Yes. In other words, you've been putting more electricity to work for you, and getting more value out of it than ever before?

"You're right. I guess we have. Never looked at it that way. Why, maybe electricity is a real bargain."

No doubt about it, sir. It is.

Roger W. Babson Urges Science Fairs To Highlight Knowledge of Youngster

Roger W. Babson, world famous statistician and economic advisor, this week discusses the advances of science in Russia, in his release to The Herald. The release follows:

When I was in Moscow, getting statistics relating to its public school system, I was asked what we are doing to teach science to our teen-agers. By "science" the Moscow school authorities mean mathematics, physics and chemistry.

For definite information I only could think of the work of William Guild of St. Petersburg, Florida, in developing science fairs, science clubs and previews for teachers. This work especially interests me as it discovers young people with exceptional natural talents. Any of these might easily become an Edison or a Steinmetz or some other great inventor if given individual attention when young.

Since my return, I have mailed back to Moscow clippings from newspapers describing this work. I have also mentioned the work of the Osborn Creative Educational Foundation of Buffalo, New York, which is endeavoring to awaken the creative possibilities in all people. Both of these are non-profit institutions supported by gifts from interested donors.

Guild's theory is that the true scientist is the one whose curiosity has led him to inquire into everything that 99 per cent of the people take for granted. At an exhibit given by youngsters at Tampa, Florida, I noticed a boy with four saucers on his desk. One had green peas, another yellow carrots, a third red beans and a fourth white corn. When I asked him why they were on his desk, he replied: "To make me curious as to why the different colors from the same soil, same water and same sunshine." He is much unlike a U. S. secretary of defense who is reported to have said: "I'm not interested in why the grass is green."

The primary intent of these science fairs is to stimulate a youngster's curiosity into a lively desire to find out the reason for things. If he "catches fire" and his imagination is stirred, he is on the way to becoming a great scientist. Russia makes her selections in a rough and heartless manner; but Guild does it on a voluntary basis—lets the youth, instead of Mr. K., decide his future.

Yet I am happy to say that this voluntary American program is already being used in 51 cities of Florida alone, and I do not know how many are starting in other states; while the Moscow system is hunting for prospects in over 1,000 Russian cities. This is something that our Department of Defense could take seriously. I would like to see the Guild Science Center given each year for this work the cost of one missile experiment. It would save our country a billion dollars a year as well as perhaps prevent World War III.

I hope this story will cause the superintendents of schools in wide-awake cities to send for further information. There is no cost to any city for putting on a "science fair." It interests the teachers and parents greatly. In fact, these fairs could help in selecting new teachers; the more useful teachers like to be in a city which operates a science fair once each year, and the kids certainly love it all.

Once at a dinner in London I was so fortunate as to sit next to George Bernard Shaw. Among other questions he put to me was this: "Why is it that the most marvelous of all machines, possessed by everyone, is so seldom used and why does this especially apply to you Americans?" When I asked him the name of this most marvelous machine, he replied, "The human brain, used to less than five per cent of capacity."

I then asked him how the use of the brain could be increased, and he replied, "By developing people's curiosity . . . 95 per cent of what you Americans read or hear actually goes in one ear and out the other. It is only when something heard or seen develops one's curiosity that this marvelous brain works for a few minutes." This is what the science center is trying to do. I wish William Guild would not be content to apply the work only to youngsters. Bankers and investors are especially guilty of acting upon "tips" instead of thinking about and studying the valuable fact which are available.

PSYCHIATRY AT WORK.

"Yes," mused the matinee idol, "psychiatry sure has helped me. A few months ago when the phone rang, I was afraid to answer it. Now I answer it whether it rings or not."

TAKING TURNS.

A woman waiting at the door and ready to go to the store had her arms full of coats. Her four small children surrounded her.

The husband came down the stairs and demanded to know why she was standing in the entry. "Well, Fred," she replied sweetly, "this time I want you to put the children's coats on. I'll go out to the car and hunk the horn."

Industrial corporations gave a total of $136,000,000 in support of higher education in the U. S. last year. Gifts to colleges and universities in 1953 amounted to $400,000,000. In 1959 the total was expected to reach $150,000,000.

Wheatley Announces For Representative

Keith C. Wheatley of Stamford, who has been a farmer and rancher and small businessman of the territory, this week authorizes The Hamlin Herald to officially announce his candidacy for state representative from the 85th Representative District, composed of seven counties of the area, subject to the action of the Democratic primary on Saturday, May 7.

Wheatley says he will have a more extended statement concerning his candidacy at a later date.

CANVASS CALL.

The salesman was making a cold turkey call on a large firm, and was referred to the president of the company. He entered the president's office and was surprised to find there a young fellow in his very early twenties.

"Are you really the head of this big company?" asked the puzzled salesman.

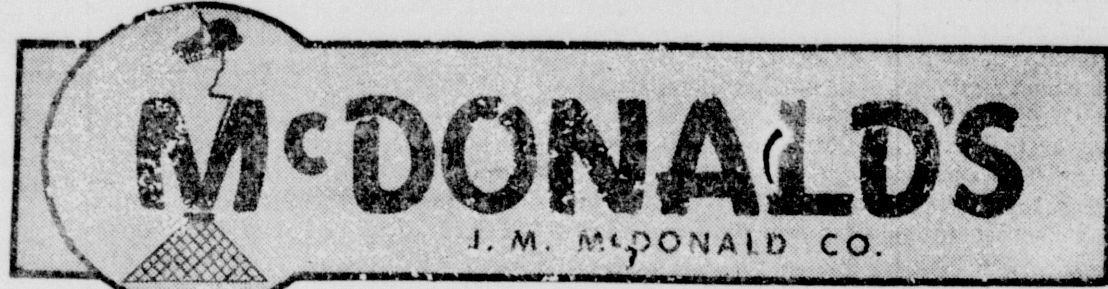

"Not yet," smiled the youth. "Right now I'm just the heir of the head."
